

Career Exploration: Navigating Degree and Career Choices

As part of the Caminos to College and Careers: Education and Leadership Virtual Workshop Series, LNEsc is hosting roundtable discussions to help participants identify career interests. This workshop is designed to inspire participants to explore different career options in business, criminal justice, education, engineering, law, medicine, political science, social work, and technology. Through small group discussions via virtual roundtables, guest speakers will share their personal and professional experiences in their respective fields, and provide participants the opportunity to directly engage with them on any questions they may have.
